Enrolment status

DI ROSSO, Simon is eligible to stand for election as a resident of the City of Kalamunda.

I have lived in the City of Kalamunda for almost 50 years and am proud to have raised my family here. I have been a legal practitioner for almost 20 years, gaining in-depth experience across many areas of law, in particular local government, complex commercial disputes, environmental matters, planning and construction, and now family law, in which I practise and am studying a double Masters. I have served as both Councillor and General Counsel of the City, working with administration to strengthen governance, improve transparency, and deliver practical outcomes. Before law I worked in local government for over a decade, leading health and environmental services, which grounded me in community priorities and service delivery. I am conscious of significant rate increases and will ensure transparency and a genuine community voice in decision-making. My focus is proper and sustained planning, improved aged care, family and sporting facilities, and being available locally to listen and act.
